

Owl Publications

Owl Team

Owl Products/Collaborations

- Spatial - García-Feced et al. 2011. LiDAR as a tool to characterize wildlife habitat: California spotted nesting habitat as an example. J. Forestry
- BACI - Popescu et al. 2012. Estimating population impacts via dynamic occupancy analysis of Before-After Control-Impact studies. Ecol. Appl.
- Climate Change - Peery et al. 2012. Climate change and spotted owls: potentially contrasting responses in the Southwestern United States. Global Change Biology
- Owl Management - Berigan et al. 2012. Evaluating the efficacy of protected habitat areas for the California spotted owl using long-term monitoring data. J. Forestry.
- Occupancy - Tempel et al. In Review. The relationship between occupancy and abundance for a territorial species, the California spotted owl. Conservation Biology.

Ancillary Efforts

- Understanding and managing conservation conflicts – TREE In press
- Owl Recruitment in San Bernardino Mountains – Auk in revision
- Effects of splats on owls – PLoS Uno rejected