

University of California
Agriculture and Natural Resources

Announcing a Two Day Workshops Series:

Facilitation Tools for Collaboration

Hosted by the Sierra Nevada Adaptive Management Project

(<http://snamp.cnr.berkeley.edu>) and the

University of California Cooperative Extension (UCCE) Outreach Team

Friday, May 30, 2014, 10am to 4pm

At the Acouffe Center, 9185 Marysville Rd, Dobbins/Marysville

Workshop Goal:

The goal of these workshops is to discuss facilitation skills and tools that can support your success during collaborative efforts. We will identify important processes that can support collaboration, share tools to prevent problems, and demonstrate interventions to support success when problems arise. These workshops are designed to help participants review the skills needed to support the mutual learning and discussion required in any truly collaborative effort. We have developed training modules to serve a wide variety of stakeholders.

SNAMP collaborative field trip on the Tahoe National Forest involving multiple agencies

Who Should Attend?

Our workshops are open to anyone interested in improving the success of their efforts to work together with others in a collaborative project.

Registration:

Registration is required and there is a $35.00 fee for lunch and materials for both workshops. Please register on-line at <http://ucanr.edu/collaborationworkshop/>. For more information on the workshops please contact Anne Lombardo at amlombardo@ucanr.edu or Cathy Le Blanc at cathy.marie17@gmail.com.

The University of California Division of Agriculture & Natural Resources (ANR) prohibits discrimination or harassment of any person in any of its programs or activities. Should you need assistance or require special accommodations for any of our educational programs, please contact us at 530-621-5502.