TO: Interested Stakeholders
RE: Public Meeting – November 29, 2007
WHERE: To Be Announced

----- PLEASE SAVE THE DATE -----

Dear Interested Participant,

Please hold the date of November 29th for the quarterly meeting update(s) from the University of California Science Team regarding the initial implementation phase of the Sierra Nevada Adaptive Management Project (SNAMP).

The success of this project requires public input throughout the development and implementation of the work plan. We will create continued opportunities for your input at this meeting and future events.

We are also planning a Celebration in recognition of this unique collaborative effort that has been built on the foundation of several past, present and ongoing efforts in the Sierra.

We hope you will join us!

More details regarding location, time and detailed agenda will follow.

In the meantime, for general project updates, please visit:
